

We advance technology. But we measure progress by how we improve the world around us. That means investing. In our people. In the young students who will become the next generation of innovators. And in the communities where we operate around the globe.

What inside of You?

Major in Business, Marketing/PR, English or Science/ Engineering program.

Undergraduate student.

An English resume. A desire to do something meaningful.

Show us what's inside of you! Come and join the challenge to make a difference in the 2014 Intel Korea Sales and Marketing Internship Program for 8 weeks during summer vacation.

Indicate the job title in the email subject line by sending your CV & transcript to apac.staffing@intel.com no later than May 28, 2014 (Wed). Shortlisted candidates will be invited for an interview in the following weeks.

Step inside our world and you'll find one brilliant mind after another – all working together in a spirit of collaboration that is simply contagious. We deliver the future!

